

CONNECTING OUR STRUGGLES

Reverend Osagyefo Sekou on his experiences in Ferguson and Palestine

Monday, March 23rd, 7:00pm International House Great Room

Occupation. Militarization. Protests. Tear gas. Gunshots. Color. Identity. Solidarity.

How familiar are these concepts? Is the black struggle in the United States really a reflection of the Palestinian struggle under Israeli occupation, and vice versa? How are they similar, how are they different? What can we learn from each other?

Let's connect our struggles.

Rev. Osagyefo Sekou returns to UT, where he studied African and African American Studies and Political Science and chaired the Black Cultural Programming Committee, to speak about his experiences in Ferguson and Palestine.

Presented by Students for Justice in Palestine

Sponsored by the Office for the Vice Chancellor for Diversity, American Studies Program,
Department of Anthropology, Department of History, Global Studies Program, Religious Studies Association, and Progressive Student Alliance.